Burton Fleming Hedgehog News

GOOD NEWS - The little hog named "IAN" found at Scenic Caravan Park is doing well following treatment and will be released as soon as he's up to weight!

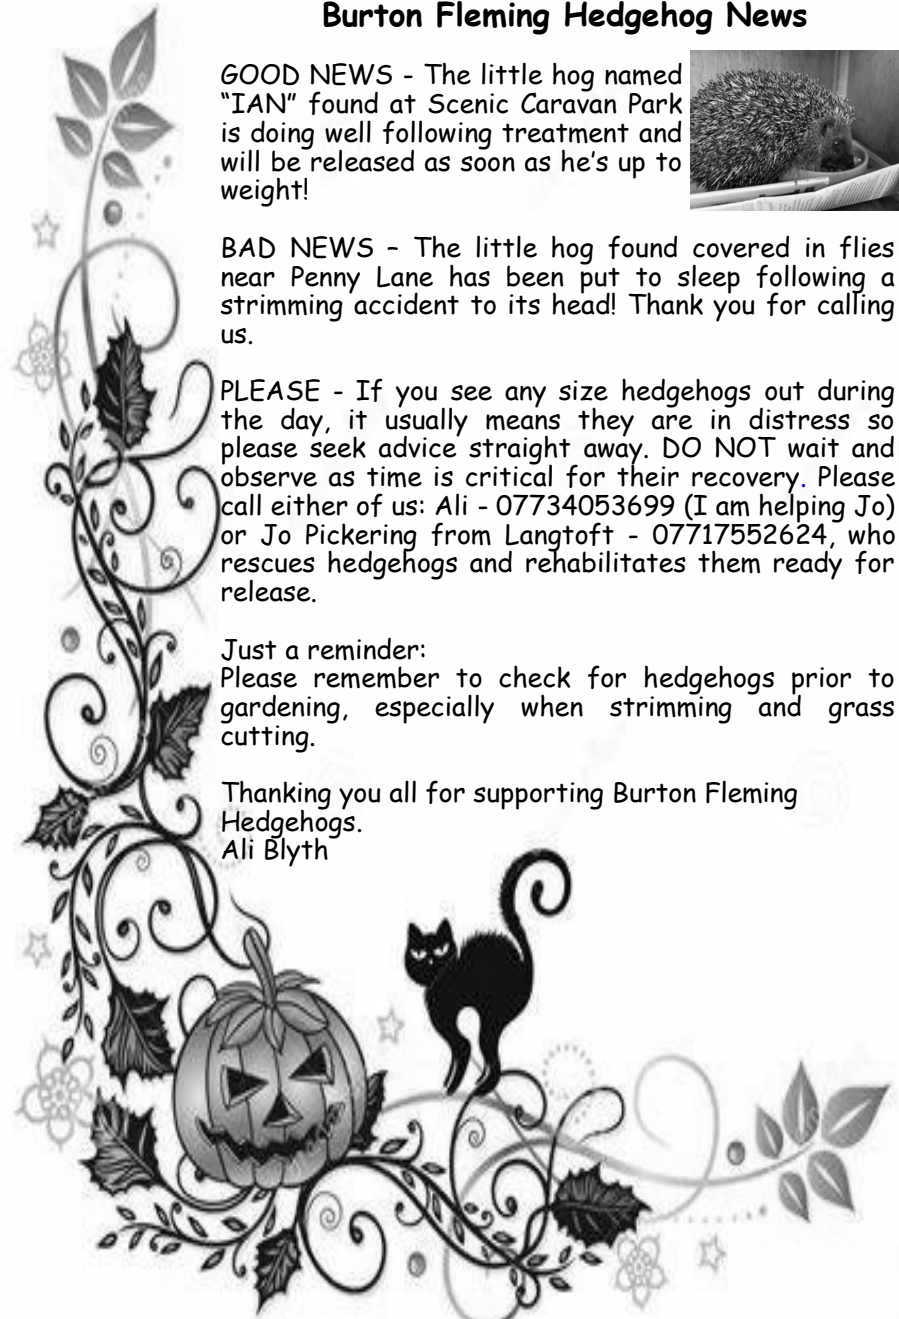

BAD NEWS - The little hog found covered in flies near Penny Lane has been put to sleep following a strimming accident to its head! Thank you for calling us.

PLEASE - If you see any size hedgehogs out during the day, it usually means they are in distress so please seek advice straight away. DO NOT wait and observe as time is critical for their recovery. Please call either of us: Ali - 07734053699 (I am helping Jo) or Jo Pickering from Langtoft - 07717552624, who rescues hedgehogs and rehabilitates them ready for release.

Just a reminder:
Please remember to check for hedgehogs prior to gardening, especially when strimming and grass cutting.

Thanking you all for supporting Burton Fleming Hedgehogs.

A FEW WORDS FROM ME

Dear Friends,
As a child, my parents drilled me and my sister to always write and say thank you. But I have noticed this seems to be a dying trend. Are we just getting busier and therefore a quick email, text message, or conversation is seen as performing the same function? I'm not convinced it is better or carries the same depth of sentiment as an actual letter/card. Are we less 'thankful' for acts of kindness and gifts? I don't think so, although there is certainly a growing air of entitlement in our wider society.
Of course, the prayers on a Sunday morning are offered within the Eucharist, which itself is a service of Thanksgiving (that's what the word actually means). During the service we follow Jesus' example in giving thanks to our heavenly Father for the bread and wine he has caused to grow and be produced and for the way it becomes the Body and Blood of Christ - the food of the new Kingdom, where sin and death are no more - which sustains us in our journey of faith. Our worship encourages us to be thankful and to recognise all the blessings so lavishly bestowed upon us. And in response to this abundant generosity, our liturgies also invite us to think of ourselves and others and how we might be able to give or help those in need. The route of all this though is God's generosity. It starts with God. But it does require us to have our eyes and ears open to see and hear God's blessings at work in our lives, in the Church & in the world around us. Perhaps that is the potential problem - as a society we have become less attentive in looking for, or hearing God's involvement and goodness around us. Perhaps we have grown blind or deaf - or selectively so - and only have eyes and ears to hear what is going on in our lives? In our fast-changing world this is so easy to do. What might we need to do to regain our sight and the awe & wonder at God's amazing generosity? How might we listen afresh to the stories of God's involvement in the lives of those around us? Do we need to go to the Church's equivalent of Specsavers? This autumn, I for one, intend to re-acquaint myself with the habit of thanksgiving. Perhaps you might like to do likewise.

Love & blessings,
Revd Barbara
